PROPER USE

These pumps are to be used as submersible pumps in Koi ponds, water gardens, waterfalls, and fountain applications to circulate and oxygenate pond water. Anti-vibration pads isolate the pump for quiet, vibration-free operation. Can be screw mounted to an appropriate base, make sure that the pump is securely installed before operation.

Proper care and maintenance will keep your pump functioning efficiently, and will extend the service life of the pump.

These pumps are not designed or intended for use other than those listed. Using these pumps in non-approved applications may subject the user to dangers and hazards, and will void the warranty.

CAUTION

These pumps should be installed per your local electrical code. Please contact an electrician. For all technical data, please refer to the content stated on the rating label of the pump. These pumps are not for use in swimming pools.

Do not operate these pumps without water. If the pump runs, for any length of time, in a dry condition without water it will damage the pump and void the warranty.
